Every child should own a hundred books by the age of five. To that end, Book Dash gathers creative volunteers to create new African storybooks that anyone can freely print, translate and distribute. Then we work with partners to give those books to preschool children to own.

In die veld is daar 'n
klomp verskillende diere:

groot en klein,
vinnig en s t a d i g.

Maar elke dier
speel 'n rol.

An illustration of an elephant's trunk and head in a savanna landscape. The trunk is long and purple, reaching down towards a blue watering hole. The elephant's head is brown and smiling, with its trunk raised. The background features green grass and a light blue sky. The ground is brown and sandy, with some orange rocks scattered around.

Olifante het lang neuse wat ons slurpe noem. Hulle gebruik dit om water mee uit te snuffel. Hulle kan drinkgoed opspoor selfs waar daar niks te siene is nie.

En as hulle iets kry,
trompetter hulle vir
hul vriende:

toet-
toet!

Renosters hou van roetine.

Hulle volg dieselfde roetes

oor

en

oor,

en maak wye paadjies soos hulle deur die
bosse bars.

Seekoeie eet graag soet, groen gras,
en sommer baie daarvan.

Nom-

nom-

nom.

Hulle hou die gras langs die rivier kort sodat dit makliker is om by die water uit te kom.

Maar wat
van apies?

O, apies se werk is veral belangrik.

Van sonop tot sononder is hulle aan die gang -

hulle klim,
bollemakiesie slaan

en soek kos.

Apies hang aan hul
voete van die bome af,
en bekijk die wêreld

onderstebo.

Hulle

swaai

van tak tot tak in groepe van twee, drie
en vier op 'n slag.

Dis nou
pret!

Ma-apies kan dit alles doen met 'n baba wat aan hul maag vasklou. Wat sien die kleintjies van daar onder af?

An illustration of two brown monkeys sitting on a green and yellow savanna floor. One monkey is on the left, facing right, with its long tail curled on the ground. The other monkey is on the right, facing left, with its long tail extending to the right. They are both looking at each other. In the background, there are green bushes and a large tree on the left side of the frame. The sky is light blue with soft white clouds.

As hulle 'n happie soek,

pluk apies
sommer 'n vlooi

van 'n tjommie se rug af.

En as hulle moeg en warm is, dan

plons

hulle in die water.

Wat is die belangrike
werk wat apies doen?
Hulle speel heeldag lank.

En dis
harde werk!
