

Tone's Big Drop

This book belongs to

Every child should own a hundred books by the age of five. To that end, Book Dash gathers creative professionals who volunteer to create new, African storybooks that anyone can freely translate and distribute. To find out more, and to download beautiful, print-ready books, visit bookdash.org.

Tone's Big Drop

Illustrated by Musonda Kabwe and Robyn Daly

Written by Edna Gicovi

Designed by Robyn Daly

Edited by Monique Whitaker

with the help of the Book Dash participants in Johannesburg on 25/02/2017

ISBN: [Book Dash to insert]

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 Licence (<http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>). You are free to share (copy and redistribute the material in any medium or format) and adapt (remix, transform, and build upon the material) this work for any purpose, even commercially. The licensor cannot revoke these freedoms as long as you follow the following license terms:

Attribution: You must give appropriate credit, provide a link to the license, and indicate if changes were made. You may do so in any reasonable manner, but not in any way that suggests the licensor endorses you or your use.

No additional restrictions: You may not apply legal terms or technological measures that legally restrict others from doing anything the license permits.

Notices: You do not have to comply with the license for elements of the material in the public domain or where your use is permitted by an applicable exception or limitation.

No warranties are given. The license may not give you all of the permissions necessary for your intended use. For example, other rights such as publicity, privacy, or moral rights may limit how you use the material.

Tone's Big Drop

Musonda Kabwe

Edna Gicovi

Robyn Daly

One hot day, little Tone sits with the other cloud droplets and looks down from the sky. Everything looks so interesting from way up here in the clouds.

The trees look like little soft green balls. The rivers look like silver ribbons. The mountain tops look like ice cream scoops. The buildings look like little grey boxes.

“What else is down there?” Tone asks her friend Nyunyu.

“My daddy says there are people and animals and trees and cars,” says Nyunyu.

“Wow! So much to see!” says Tone.

As the day carries on, their friend Ms Sun rises higher and higher in the sky until Tone and Nyunyu and the other droplets cannot see her anymore.

Mr Wind comes along whistling a sweet, sweet tune.

His whistles blow Tone and Nyunyu and their droplet friends off their cloud.

“Brr!” says Tone.

It’s getting very cold.

Mr Wind keeps whistling and Tone and Nyunyu and the other droplets fall onto another cloud.

BOOP!

They bounce off the cloud and then fall far, far towards the earth.

“Look at me fall, Nyunyu. I’m going faster than you!” says Tone and she races with Nyunyu to see who will be the fastest.

They fall past clouds and birds and very tall buildings

“ Look at that, Tone. What is it?” says Nyunyu.

Down,
down,
down they go.
Faster and faster.

“Hmm, I see red and orange, yellow and green,
blue and purple,” says Tone.

“It looks like a big ball!” says Nyunyu.

"It looks like a rainbow!" says Tone.

Down,
down,
down they fall.

“Whee!”

“Whee!”

Swoosh!

They slide down the big, bouncy, colourful thing.

“It’s an umbrella!” shout Tone and Nyunyu.

